TAYLOR'S PATENT SAFETY WINDOW

Is the Simplest and Most Reliable in the Market,

As there are no loose cords or clutches, and it is perfectly wind and water tight. Specially adapted for existing windows. Saves its price in about one year by abolishing window cleaner's bill.

Now in use from the castle down to the cottage.

FITTINGS TO BE HAD FROM 2s. 6d. PER SASH.

All particulars to be had from

WILLIAM TAYLOR, JOINER, ALEXANDRIA, N.B.

Or from any First-Class Ironmonger.

THE LATEST AND BEST WORK OF ITS KIND.

The only General Business Directory of Ireland Published in the Kingdom.

PRESS OPINIONS.

Freemen.—Indispensable to all firms carrying on business either in or with Ireland. Seldom has a work deserved its title better than that which we have now before us; it is, indeed, in the fullest sense a complete and perfect "Business Directory of Ireland," comprising within its pages compendious alphabetical and classified lists of all the principal manufacturers, merchants, shippers, and traders in all the chief cities, towns, and trade centres. Accuracy, which is the greatest essential of a directory, is here observed to the minutest detail, and the work reflects much credit on the care, industry, and patience employed by its compiler.

Irish Times.—In the "Business Directory of Ireland," merchants and traders will find all the special information for which they have hitherto looked in vain. The book contains the most exhaustive alphabetical and classified lists of the principal merchants, traders, and manufacturers to be found in the smallest or in the largest Irish business towns.

Liverpool Mercury.—This is an exceedingly useful compilation, the only exclusively mercantile directory published for Ireland, and will be found most useful.

Morning Mail.—We have nothing but praise for the arrangement of the compilation and the excellent taste with which the volume is brought out. We believe that such a work is one that must appeal strongly to the business public of the whole Kingdom, or that part of it having commercial dealings with Ireland.

United Ireland.—The plan adopted is simple but exhaustive; there is no complicated arrangement. To mercantile firms the book will be invaluable, as the lists of principal merchants, manufacturers, and traders in all the Irish cities and towns are given in a handy and easily accessible shape. The work as a whole is highly creditable to Irish enterprise.

Irish Catholic.—The work seems to us to form an invaluable adjunct of the counting-house, the study, and the hotel. No business establishment should be without it. We trust the "Business Directory of Ireland" will have the large sale it deserves.

Evening Telegraph.—A work of an exceptionally useful nature is "The Business Directory of Ireland." The publication represents a vast amount of labour on the part of the compiler; and the manner in which the information is presented adds much to its value, and bespeaks success in every way.

Queen.—To men of business, books of this class are always useful, and not to them alone. Tourists and visitors staying for a while in Ireland would be thankful for such aid as this volume supplies; and, therefore, hotels and other places of resort should have it at hand.

The Caterer.—To all those that are in any way associated with, or interested in, the industries of Ireland, this exhaustive business register ought to come as a "boon and blessing." The compiler has certainly done his work well; it will usefully reinforce the reference books of the commercial room.

8 ST GILES STREET, EDINBURGH

MACDONALD'S TOURISTS' GUIDE TO LONDON.

Prices in Paper Cover 6d., in Cloth 1s., and in Leather 3s.

THE HANDIEST. THE MOST USEFUL

Illustrated with Sixty-three Woodcuts, and accompanied with a Street Plan of the City.

PRESS OPINIONS.

"It is very well put together, and contains a lot of information, a plan of London, and numerous illustrations. It will certainly bear favourable comparison with any of the hand-books to the Metropolis."—Glasgow Herald.

"Carefully compiled, and must prove a valuable guide to the London visitor. The large Plan of London will be found of great service."—Newcastle Daily Chronicle.

"Is packed with information, contains numerous illustrations, is divided into a number of well-arranged routes, and abounds in dry hints for the tourist often of an amusing kind."—Publisher's Circular.

"Well illustrated, and accompanied with a Plan of London."—Liverpool Mercury.

"Is a cheap and handy Manual for the Stranger in the Capital."—Manchester Guardian.

"Ten routes are sketched out, and any tourist who manages to overtake or go over the whole of these will have assuredly seen the best part of London and all its buildings that are worth looking at."—North British Advertiser.

May be had of all Booksellers, Newsvendors, and at the Railway Bookstalls, or of the Publishers, WM. MACDONALD & CO., London, Edinburgh, and Dublin.
